

Rob Smith

Rob was born and raised in Orem, Utah. He attended Mountain View High School where he enjoyed playing on the basketball team and participating in student government. Rob found ways to get involved at Utah Valley University through the LDS Institute Council and as the lead intern in UVU's Presidential Internship program working with UVU's President, Chief of Staff, and the administrative cabinet.

Rob is currently the Student Body President at Utah Valley University representing over 37,000 students. Rob sits on over 25 boards and committees across UVU. Some of these include President's Council, Board of Trustees, Inclusion committee, and University Planning and Advising Committee. He has loved the opportunity to serve and represent the students at UVU.

Rob is currently studying political science while minoring in history. He is attending Brigham Young University in the fall to pursue a Master's in Public Administration. He hopes to pursue a career in Higher Education Administration. Rob is happily married to his wonderful wife, Kati, and they are proud parents to their son and soon to be daughter.
